False lashes are for people with short or thin eyelashes. They consist of synthetic or human hair and are used with magnetic strips or other adhesives to attach with the natural lashes. Lashes enhance the appearance and enhance beauty by increasing the thickness, curl, and length of your natural eyelashes. Eyelashes come in various sizes, colors, shapes, and fibers to suit every user's needs. Some players produce custom eyelashes that can be altered and used according to customer preferences, allowing more flexibility in using the product.

Manufacturers are changing their product branding and advertising strategies to accelerate their sales across various countries. Innovative strategies such as new product launches with natural products, and innovative packaging have been adopted by manufacturing companies to increase sales of eye makeup products such as eyelashes and lashes extension. As cosmetics have become an integral part of lives, consumers, especially women, prefer to use products, which are handy and easy to use while traveling or attending social meetings. The use of natural raw material for manufacturing false lashes, which does not have any adverse effect on the eye, is a popular strategy of manufacturers to attract more customers. This also helps in increasing the revenue of companies operating in this industry. Collectively, all these strategies adopted by manufacturers drive the growth of the false lashes market industry.

Social media is very influential in both positive and negative ways. Social media connects people and also helps to communicate between consumers and businesses. It gives businesses a way to engage with customers. Before social media marketing, finding a targeted group of consumers was a difficult task for businesses and this took more effort as it is more costly, making it very difficult for startups to get in front of their target audience. The ongoing false lashes market trends are expected to create more opportunities for manufacturers in the upcoming years. Businesses are promoting their brands and products through social media. Through the advertisements & promotions of brands or products by celebrities, these brands can increase awareness and trust in their product. Consumers feel more comfortable with a brand if their products are promoted by a celebrity they admire or relate to. Now around 3.2 billion and more users across the globe, that is about more than 42% of the total present population, have a Facebook account. The increase in the penetration of the products in developing countries is expected to propel false lashes market demand in the upcoming years. The influence of social media and celebrity endorsement of false lashes is expected to create opportunities for manufacturers in the upcoming years.
