and bias scores on the source of information. While it acknowledges the possibility of bias introduced by writers, Authentication™ goes a step further by equipping users with reliability scores and extensive data for their own interpretation.

One of the key features of Authentication™ is its versatility. Unlike other fact-checking platforms that primarily focus on trending issues, Authentication™ caters to a broad spectrum of topics. Users can input any assertion and receive the best available information on the internet, along with a validity score and supporting data.

Dr. Hnatio, Chief Science Officer at Truth Quotient LLC, emphasizes the importance of critical thinking in today's digital age. "We are not teaching people what to think, but how to think," says Dr. Hnatio. "Our goal is to empower individuals to critically analyze information and detect misinformation, bias, and logical fallacies."

Moreover, Authentication™ distinguishes itself from other AI platforms by prioritizing user empowerment over algorithmic biases. With recent incidents highlighting the risks associated with AI-generated content, such as Google's decision to take its AI image generation tool Gemini offline, Authentication™ offers a human-centric approach to fact-checking.

"Our mission at Truth Quotient LLC is to promote critical thinking skills and ensure the integrity of information online," adds Dr. Hnatio. "With Authentication™, we aim to arm individuals from all backgrounds with the tools they need to navigate the digital landscape with confidence."
