We look forward to partnering with addiction specialists and providers to provide comprehensive care to this population. Together, we can offer hope and healing to those battling alcohol dependence.”

dependence continues to be a pervasive issue affecting millions of individuals in the New York City area, yet most go without getting the help they need. According to recent statistics, over 1.2 million New Yorkers are suspected of struggling with alcohol use disorder (Source: SAMHSA). In response to this pressing need for effective treatment options, NY Ketamine Infusions (NYKI) is proud to announce the launch of its innovative Ketamine for Alcohol Dependence \(KAD\) program.

Ketamine, a medication known for its anesthetic properties, has shown remarkable promise in treating alcohol dependence by targeting the underlying maladaptive reward memories associated with addiction. Research studies have demonstrated that ketamine therapy can disrupt these harmful patterns, leading to a significant reduction in alcohol intake and promoting a healthier lifestyle.

The ideal candidate for KAD treatments is a patient with mild to moderate alcohol dependence, especially if associated with depression and/or anxiety, without a history of complicated alcohol withdrawal, who desires a transformative change to a healthier lifestyle.

As the most experienced ketamine clinic in the nation, NY Ketamine Infusions has a long history of providing cutting-edge treatments and a relentless pursuit of safe and effective solutions for depression, PTSD, anxiety and chronic pain. Now, with the introduction of the KAD program, the clinic aims to expand its impact and reach by addressing the urgent need for effective solutions in the field of addiction treatment.
