various creations, from paintings to cabinets to space exploration, Stapf asserts that, like any well-designed system, every human being's purpose is intricately determined by their Creator, Almighty God. With over 57 years of marriage to his wife Audrey and the experience of raising five children in Carroll County, Maryland, Stapf shares insights gained from a life characterized by stability and a journey of faith. His diverse career, spanning from Electrical Engineering to business ownership, and culminating in becoming an ordained Lutheran pastor, exemplifies the dynamic hand of the Lord molding individuals into vessels for divine service.

From profound reflections on life's purpose, "Vignettes From The Lovely House" a delightful 60-page children's book that takes young readers on a captivating journey into the fascinating world of animals. This book is a collaborative masterpiece that blossomed from the rekindling of a decades-old friendship. The author, Eugenia Eberle, has poured her collective wisdom and creativity into this captivating children's book. The stories, accompanied by delightful illustrations, take young readers on a journey into the fascinating world of animals. Each of the ten vignettes imparts valuable life lessons, making it not only an entertaining read but also an educational experience for children.

Perfect for children aged 7-12, "Vignettes From The Lovely House" also caters to the young at heart and animal lovers of all ages. The book combines storytelling with vibrant illustrations to engage readers and bring the animal kingdom to life.

Shifting gears from the enchanting tales of animals, Vincent J. Tomeo pays homage to those resting in the tranquil grounds of Mount Saint Mary Cemetery and the dedicated souls in service to the United States of America. As an esteemed author and poet, Tomeo skillfully unravels the intricate tapestry of life in his moving creation, "My Cemetery Friends: A Garden of Encounters at Mount Saint Mary in Queens, New York". Spanning 94 pages, Tomeo delicately delves into the beauty of life, the intricate connections forged, and the profound significance embedded in each encounter along the journey of existence.

Airplane Stories and Histories

Written on a warm Saturday afternoon in May, within the hallowed grounds where his mother lies at rest, Vincent Tomeo has composed this literary gem. His book serves as a sincere tribute to families, friends, the military, the overlooked, and the unnamed, seamlessly weaving their narratives into a tapestry that celebrates life, nature, humanity, and compassion—a quest for a deeper understanding and enduring peace.

Leaving the quiet grounds of the cemetery, a renowned figure in aeronautical engineering, Norman Currey presents a captivating 206-page journey through the intriguing evolution of aviation. This meticulously researched volume spans two centuries of aviation milestones, vividly recounting the endeavors of pioneers who played pivotal roles in shaping the skies.

From the visionary concepts of Sir George Cayley to the groundbreaking accomplishments of aviation luminaries like the Wright brothers, Charles Lindbergh, and others, "Airplane Stories and Histories" delves into the narratives of Wiley Post, Amelia Earhart, R. J. Mitchell, Sir Geoffrey de Havilland, Allan Loughead, Frank Whittle, and Kelly Johnson. Currey's wealth of knowledge adds depth to the historical accounts, making this volume an engaging read for aviation enthusiasts, history buffs, and anyone with a passion for the skies.

From the vastness of the skies to the magical world of poetry, Diana Leavengood Blanco, a graduate of Duke University and a seasoned adventurer, introduces her book, "Tales from the Disenchanted and Wisdom from the Haiku". This 260-page anthology of poetry beckons readers into a realm where words become vessels for profound emotions, encapsulating the core of loss, courage, beauty, love, tragedy, and cruelty.

Blanco's poetry mirrors the tapestry of her life's journey—a mosaic woven from adventures like hitchhiking across Europe, working as a small animal veterinarian, and contributing to a major newspaper. The verses in this compilation often spring from deep wells of sorrow, aiming to immortalize memories, narrate stories, and delve into the genuine cost of the human experience. Shaped by a life filled with diverse experiences, Diana Leavengood Blanco weaves a tapestry of richness and authenticity in every poem.
