COSMarketing Agency Discusses the Importance of Diversifying Social Media Presence for Businesses

[Orlando, FL – 3/31/24] Following the recent blackouts on multiple social media sites, leveraging a diverse social media presence is increasingly crucial for success. Businesses need to enhance reach across 3-5 different social media platforms, to expand online saturation, gain more backlinks, and get more opportunities to engage with a wider array of audiences.

The axiom "strength in numbers" rings especially true in social media marketing. Diversification ensures that if one platform experiences an issue or downtime, akin to the recent site crashes, viability, and activity will remain on other platforms, offering a safety net that can prove invaluable in times of crisis.
