Roehl Transport has announced a profit-sharing contribution to drivers and non-drivers based on 2023 financial results. In a year that saw many trucking companies struggle to make a profit in a down freight market, Roehl was successful because the vast majority of Roehl drivers and non-drivers lived Roehl's values. They improved on-time service and took care of the company's customers – providing them flawless transportation services.

For 2023, Roehl's profit-sharing contribution is 5.5% of gross wages to eligible teammates. Roehl has made a profit-sharing contribution every year since creating the plan more than 40 years ago.

Eligibility depends on when a teammate was hired by the company. For teammates who started on July 1, 2022 or earlier, they receive a contribution equal to 5.5% of their 2023 gross wages. For teammates who started between July 2, 2022 and January 1, 2023, they receive a contribution of 5.5% of their gross wages from July 1, 2023 through December 31, 2023.

With Roehl, even eligible teammates who do not contribute to their 401(k) will receive profit-sharing money – that's one of the benefits of working for a company that shares its profits. Roehl deposits the profit-sharing funds into a retirement account for eligible teammates; that wouldn't happen at a company that offers a company 401k match since the teammates didn't participate.&

Roehl Transport is one of North America's safest and most successful trucking companies, and profit sharing is one of the many benefits the company offers teammates.
