BEAUBIE (Christian John Thomas) will be debut his new song in a free live concert at the Market Hugs Musical Showcase this Saturday, March 16, at 7:00 PM in Decatur, GA. Market Hugs features musical acts and unique items from a wide array of vendors.

At Age 14 BEAUBIE was performing on stage alongside some of the most recognizable Opera stars on the planet. Then a year later at age 15 he made his solo debut at Carnegie Hall in NYC followed by sold-out performances at concert venues throughout the United States.

Although BEAUBIE spent his early life performing classical music, opera, and musical theater, alternative music was always his passion. At a young age BEAUBIE began writing his own metal/punk alternative songs, inspired by his favorite bands LAMB OF GOD, I WRESTLED A BEAR ONCE, and RINGS OF SATURN, for many years he kept these songs to himself as they were so far removed from the classical training he had known his entire life. During the pandemic, his family relocated their business from Cleveland, Ohio to the Town at Trilith, located adjacent to Trilith Studios, in Fayetteville, GA just south of Atlanta. It was then BEAUBIE began sharing the many songs he had written over the years for the first time.
