Other prominent players in the market include: Mondi, MTS, Segezha Group, Klabin, Billerudkorsnas, Stora Enso, EtalonGroup, Daio Paper construction, Nordic Paper, Narton Hayat, Gascgone Paper and other Prominent players.

The rapidly expanding packaging business is driving the kraft paper market. Kraft Paper is used in industrial and commercial packaging operations such as packing, wrapping individual items, bundling, and void fill because of its strength and durability. For instance, according to a report by Packaging Digest, in 2021, packaging was a trillion-dollar industry with industrial packaging, food packaging, and beverage packaging contributing to maximum sales. Therefore, the rapid expansion of the packaging business will propel the kraft paper market.

Government support is expected to drive the growth of the kraft paper market going forward. The governments of various countries are supporting the kraft paper sector to produce new solutions to better serve the industry. For example, in February 2023, Canada's Minister of Justice and Attorney General, on behalf of Canada's Minister of Natural Resources, announced a federal contribution of $10 million to Kruger Packaging L.P., a Canada-based packaging company, for the transformation of the Kruger Place Turcot Mill in Montreal into North America's first mill to produce 100% recycled saturating kraft. Also in March 2023, in the UK, the Forestry Commission announced £4 million ($5.07 million) in funding, which is going to contribute to the government's goal of reaching net zero emissions by 2050 and support innovative projects that
