

A Common America, the Podcast Officially Launches

The SuperPAC for The People expands their outreach focusing on issues most Americans want solved.

WASHINGTON, DC, USA, March 19, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- A Common America, a bipartisan organization dedicated to promoting unity and common sense solutions, is excited to announce the launch of their new podcast. The podcast, titled "A Common America" will focus on discussing the major issues that Americans want solved by Congress, including polarization, immigration reform, cost of healthcare, and climate change, among others.

The podcast will feature a diverse group of experts, activists, and everyday Americans who will share their perspectives and insights on these pressing issues. Listeners can expect in-depth discussions, thought-provoking debates, and practical solutions that can be implemented to address these challenges. The goal of the podcast is to educate and empower moderate voters to take action and support moderate candidates in the upcoming House elections.

According to recent polls, a majority of Americans are dissatisfied with the current state of politics and are looking for common sense solutions to the issues that affect their daily lives. A Common America believes that by bringing together different voices and promoting civil discourse, we can bridge the divide and make progress on these important issues. The podcast will serve as a platform for Americans to come together and find common ground, regardless of their political beliefs.

"We are thrilled to launch this podcast and provide a space for meaningful conversations about the issues that matter most to Americans," said Mark Waldenberg, Co-Founder of A Common America. "Our goal is to empower moderate voters to take action and support candidates who are committed to finding common sense solutions. We believe that by working together, we can create a better and more united America."

The first episode of "A Common America: Introduction" has already been released. The podcast will be available on all major streaming platforms. For more information and updates, please visit A Common America's website and follow them on social media. Let's come together and make our voices heard.
