

Heisenberg Shipping Reports Assisting Over 134 Vessels in 2023 Through Turkish Straits

Leading transit ship agency Heisenberg Shipping assists over 134 vessels through the Turkish Straits in 2023, highlighting their expertise and reliability.

ISTANBUL, TUZLA, TÜRKİYE, October 28, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Heisenberg Shipping, a premier transit strait agency in Türkiye, proudly announces the successful assistance of over 134 vessels navigating the Bosphorus and Dardanelles straits in 2023. This significant milestone underscores the company's commitment to providing efficient, reliable, and safe passage through these vital maritime routes connecting the Mediterranean and Black Sea.

"Surpassing the 134-vessel mark this year is a testament to our team's dedication and expertise," said Agency Manager at Heisenberg Shipping. "We understand the critical importance of the Turkish Straits in global trade, and we're devoted to ensuring that every vessel we assist experiences a seamless transit."

The majority of these were dry bulk vessels, carrying essential commodities such as grain, coal, and minerals between the Black Sea and the Mediterranean. In addition to dry bulk carriers, the company also facilitated the passage of tankers transporting vital liquid cargoes like oil and petroleum products. Supporting ships, including tugboats and supply vessels involved in various maritime operations, were also among those assisted. This wide range of vessel types underscores Heisenberg Shipping's versatility and capability to cater to different sectors within the maritime industry, reaffirming their position as a reliable partner for safe and efficient navigation through the Bosphorus and Dardanelles straits.

In addition to transit services, Heisenberg Shipping extends its strait agency services to vessels under their shipyard agency service heading to Turkish shipyards. Vessels en route to renowned shipyards in areas like Yalova and Tuzla can rely on Heisenberg Shipping for expert assistance during their transit through the straits. This ensures timely and efficient arrival for repairs, maintenance, or upgrades, further showcasing the company's comprehensive support across the maritime sector.

Heisenberg Shipping offers comprehensive services that include:

Expert Coordination: Seamless transit arrangements through the bustling Bosphorus and Dardanelles straits, minimizing waiting times even during peak traffic periods.

Transit Agency Services: Full support during transit, including anchorage area services and crew assistance, ensuring vessels have all they need for a successful passage.

Spare Parts Delivery: Timely delivery of essential components during transit, reducing downtime and maintaining operational efficiency.

Crew Change: Heisenberg Shipping assists crew change operations during vessels transits through Turkish Straits.

With waiting times in the Turkish Straits potentially extending up to a week due to heavy maritime traffic, Heisenberg Shipping leverages its strong relationships with local authorities and in-depth knowledge of the Vessel Traffic Services (VTS) system. This enables the company to significantly reduce delays, ensuring that clients' vessels transit as swiftly and safely as possible.

With a commitment to excellence, Heisenberg Shipping continues to play a great role in the Turkish Straits ship agency area. The company's comprehensive services, expert team, and strategic partnerships position it as the preferred choice for vessels navigating the Turkish Straits.
