

Iqarus Launches Ukraine-Specific Emergency Response Training

Iqarus' USER Course aims to equip international staff with the essential skills to work safely, effectively, and confidently in the Ukrainian environment.

HEREFORD, UNITED KINGDOM, March 18, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Iqarus Training and Development, a leading provider of customised and accredited medical training and education packages, announces the launch of its Ukraine-Specific Emergency Response (USER) Course. This course aims to equip international staff with essential information and practical skills to work safely, effectively, and confidently in the Ukrainian environment.

The USER Course is conducted at Iqarus' immersive training centre close to Kyiv, which offers well-appointed classrooms, comfortable dining facilities, and practical training areas that replicate the Ukrainian operational environment. On-site accommodation is available for participants travelling to Kyiv.

"We are proud to offer this tailored training programme to meet the specific needs of those working in Ukraine," said Ged Healy, Iqarus Global Head of Training and Development. "Our local presence and understanding of the environment make us the ideal choice for in-country training."

The training is designed to minimise cost and operational disruption and is delivered in a single day. It is conducted in English, with other languages available upon special request and prior arrangement.

The course content is regularly reviewed to accurately reflect the principal risks clients encounter in Ukraine. It covers various aspects of emergency response, including presentations, guided discussions, practical training, and scenario-based simulations.
