Operations at MultiPlan*

The partnership seamlessly integrates HealthCorum's provider quality scores and insights, enabling MultiPlan to optimize provider networks, guide members to high-quality providers, and generate strategic market intelligence for its Value-Driven Health Plan™ clients. By harnessing HealthCorum's analytical capabilities, MultiPlan gains a powerful resource to ensure that its networks can be built and configured on a foundation of high-performing providers. This approach also facilitates member navigation to high-quality providers, empowering healthcare consumers to make informed decisions.

"In the pursuit of developing high-performing networks, it's vital that organizations leverage meaningful insights on providers and the markets they serve," said Keith Somers, Chief Revenue Officer of HealthCorum. "We're thrilled to partner with MultiPlan on this critical work, delivering trusted quality transparency to millions of members across the country."

"This partnership signifies a transformative step towards delivering additional value to our Value-Driven Health Plan™ clients," said Mike Hart, Vice President, Operations at MultiPlan. "By incorporating HealthCorum's quality scores and insights, we enhance our ability to drive positive outcomes, improve member experiences, and deliver strategic intelligence that is crucial in today's dynamic healthcare environment."

The collaboration aligns with the industry's shift towards value-based care, offering MultiPlan and its clients a unique advantage in navigating the complexities of the evolving healthcare landscape. By including HealthCorum's quality scores, this partnership promises to drive positive outcomes for stakeholders across the care continuum.
