

New Orleans Guest House Announces Support for Saints and Sinners Literary Festival

LBGTQ Literary Festival In NOLA

NEW ORLEANS, LA, UNITED STATES, March 19, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Karen Brem, Marketing Director for the New Orleans Guest House, is excited to announce the hotel's support for the highly anticipated return of the Saints and Sinners Literary Festival, taking place in the historic French Quarter from March 22-24, 2024. The festival, renowned for its celebration of the LBGTQ literary world, promises to be a vibrant convergence of writers, readers, and literary enthusiasts.

The festival, open to everyone with an interest in contemporary literature and writing, is set to feature a who's who of the LBGTQ literary community. It provides a unique platform for writers of short fiction, poetry, music, and plays to engage in meaningful dialogue, share their work, and find inspiration among like-minded individuals.

Poetry is when an emotion has found its thought and the thought has found words.”

-Robert Frost

"As a supporter of the arts and the LBGTQ community, the New Orleans Guest House is delighted to welcome guests participating in this significant cultural event," said Karen Brem. "We believe that the Saints and Sinners Literary Festival not only enriches our vibrant city but also fosters an inclusive space for creative expression and collaboration."

Attendees of the festival can look forward to a dynamic schedule of events designed to stimulate creative thought and foster connections within the writing community. From in-depth discussions on contemporary literary trends to hands-on craft sessions aimed at honing writing skills, the festival offers something for every literary enthusiast.
