The appointment will bring increased focus to internal technology enablement and delivery excellence at a time of significant growth for the company.

SEATTLE, WASHINGTON, UNITED STATES, March 18, 2024

/EINPresswire.com/ -- In the past week, Proactiviti appointed Mario Jaspers-Faijer as CTO and Head of Delivery. Based out of the Seattle headquarters, Mario will bring over 15 years of experience in the technology and consulting industry and a passion for evolving the organizations technology teams that drive scalability and quality outcomes for clients and partners.

Born and raised in Chile, and current resident of Seattle for over 20 years,

Mario brings a deep understanding of the Latam talent market, and the technology landscape in the US. The role is seen as critical by the organization to drive high expectations for services quality and grow the next generation of talent as the company continues to expand its market presence. A deep understanding of what clients need from a delivery partner and the track record of building high-quality technical delivery teams at scale are deemed critical to meeting clients where they are at when engaging with a cost-effective nearshore technology delivery partner.

Speaking from the Gartner Data and Analytics Summit this past week, Founder and CEO Craig Wake stated "As we continue to grow rapidly, we really want to do this with purpose and control. Having a dedicated CTO and Head of Delivery will enable that, and it's especially important that Mario brings his experience to develop and grow our talent in Latin America. We're proud to have him join our leadership team and his wealth of experience in the consulting and professional services arena will help us grow internally and with our clients and partners. In order to continue our mission to open cost-effective access to everyone for outsourced
