AUSTIN, TEXAS, UNITED STATES, March 21, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Polygraf

AI was awarded the Top AI & Data Product at the 2024 Product Awards.

The 7th Annual Product Awards, presented by Products That Count in partnership with Mighty Capital and Capgemini, is the only awards program designed to celebrate the tools that help Product Managers build great products.

This recognition by Products That Count is a validation of that ethos, and our commitment to building products that bring true value to our customers.”

Anton Stepaniuk

Nominees are selected by Products That Count’s product manager network, while winners are chosen by an independent Awards Advisory Board composed of top product leaders. This year’s Board included product leaders from companies like Bank of America, Amazon’s Twitch, and S&P Global, and scrutinized over 6000 nominations.

Founded in 2021, Austin-headquartered Polygraf AI provides organizations with AI & data integrity, monitoring, and governance solutions through a Zero Trust on-prem user interface. The company’s proprietary flagship on-prem AI Governance software detects, monitors, and mitigates potential confidential, business-critical, proprietary data leaks & breaches while engaging with commercial AI systems or at device endpoints. Employees can harness the productivity of AI tools, ensuring that data privacy and compliance requirements are adhered to. Add-on features include AI Identification and Source Identification, which leverage forensic linguistic analysis to ascertain content’s origin, reliability and authenticity. These advanced tools can distinguish between human and AI-generated material, pinpointing the specific AI models employed in creation.

“In a deep-tech company like Polygraf, we strike a careful balance between pushing the boundaries of what’s possible with AI technology and ensuring that our solutions are intuitive and user-friendly and keep the customer experience at the forefront of our product development process. This recognition by Products That Count is a validation of that ethos, and our commitment to building products that bring true value to our customers.” Says Anton Stepaniuk, Co-founder and Chief Marketing Officer.

“Great tools are the Product Manager’s secret weapon,” said SC Moatti, Founder and Board Chair of Products That Count, “essential for staying ahead in the competitive market landscape. I congratulate Polygraf on defining product excellence in 2024 and beyond.”

Polygraf recently hosted the 2nd annual Ethical AI Summit in Austin during SXSW this year. This exclusive event was attended by top investors, founders, and AI leaders who participated in discussions around why Governance, Ethics, and Legislation are jointly needed to shape a responsible AI future. The company is ranked as the Top Analytics Startup to Watch Globally by Dealroom, and was also recognized by Established Startup Of The Year 2024 Top10 and AI Trailblazers during SXSW. Polygraf was also recently accepted into the 1871 AI Innovation Lab to collaborate with corporates, VCs, and industry experts on solving leading industry issues for AI integration in tech industries.
