This week's highlight video, presented by PCL Construction, features the uplifting journey of James Morgan. His transition from incarceration to a thriving construction career exemplifies the power of second chances, supported by PCL and the Anti-Recidivism Coalition (ARC). ARC's mission is to combat mass incarceration in California, advocating for a fairer criminal justice system, providing support, reentry services, and policy advocacy to empower those affected by incarceration. This story underscores the importance of support networks and opportunities for a positive transformation in individuals' lives. Most people deserve a second chance.
