The Promotion King offers exclusive event wristbands that are as colorful and durable as the festivals. These include full-color imprinted or unremovable clamps. These wristbands are the canvas of the festival theme but from an organizational perspective to that of the attendee.

On one end of the spectrum, trade fairs and conferences belong—these are simply unbeatable opportunities for networking and brand visibility. Lanyards produced by Promotion King are meant to be used at both events and contribute equally to this professional and polished presentation of IDs and badges.

With the best-selling sublimation lanyard leading the charge, businesses can choose from various models, including eco-friendly RPET lanyards, reflective lanyards for increased visibility, and one-color lanyards for a more subdued aesthetic.

Understanding the importance of sustainability, the company also highlights its Eco Custom Lanyard RPET, made from 100% Oeko-tex® certified polyester rPET. This eco-friendly option offers businesses a responsible choice without compromising quality or customization possibilities.
