service is designed to meet the unique needs of landscapers, garden enthusiasts, and ecological projects across the nation, offering an unparalleled level of personalization in creating vibrant and sustainable landscapes.

For over 30 years, Holland Wildflower Farm has been at the forefront of the horticultural industry, specializing in a wide range of wildflower seeds that thrive in various climates and regions across the United States. Building on this legacy, the farm now offers customers the ability to create their own custom seed mixes, selecting from a vast array of native and adapted species that promote biodiversity and environmental stewardship.

“Our mission has always been to bring the natural beauty of wildflowers to every corner of the country,” said Julie Holland, owner of Holland Wildflower Farm. “With our new custom mix service, we're taking a step further by empowering our customers to design their own wildflower spaces that are not only beautiful but also beneficial to the environment.”

For those not sure what they need, or without the knowledge to create an optimal environment, the staff at Holland Wildflower Farm will work with you to create a mix that works for your intended landscaping purpose or goal.

The custom bulk wildflower and prairie grass seed mixes are ideal for a variety of applications, including large-scale landscaping projects, roadside beautification, habitat restoration, and private gardens. Customers can choose from an extensive selection of seeds, native to their region, to create a mix that perfectly matches their environmental conditions and aesthetic preferences.

In addition to promoting ecological benefits, such as supporting pollinators and reducing soil erosion, the custom mixes offer an effective solution for those seeking large scale low-maintenance and drought-resistant commercial landscaping options. The farm's experts are available to guide customers through the selection process, ensuring that each mix is tailored to achieve optimal growth and bloom success.

Holland Wildflower Farm's commitment to quality and customer satisfaction is evident in their meticulous approach to seed selection and mix preparation. Each blend is carefully crafted to ensure a balanced and harmonious display of colors, heights, and blooming periods, creating a dynamic and thriving ecosystem in every garden or landscape.

"As we continue to innovate and expand our services, our goal remains to inspire a love for wildflowers, natural grasses and a commitment to environmental conservation," said Holland. "We believe that through our custom seed mixes, we can make a significant impact on the health and beauty of natural spaces across America."

The custom bulk wildflower seed mixes are now available for order on the Holland Wildflower Farm website, where customers can also access a wealth of resources and expert advice on wildflower gardening and conservation practices.
