the age of 13, Corey Clark sang professionally in Las Vegas, Nevada as a backup singer for the great Barry Manilow. A few years later, still in his teens and prior to American Idol, Clark founded the four-man musical group ENVY. It consisted himself and three other childhood friends, one being GoGo, who also became very well known nowadays as NE-YO. Corey Clark was initially invited to the Morongo Casino Resort & Spa on January 6, 2024. Word immediately spread of his show and demand for his return ensued by late comers and those who learned of his visit afterwards. Showgoers and casino players expressed their excitement to have experienced Clark performance(s). Many expressed how eager they were to see him and anticipated his Saturday, March 23, 2024 show, now saying, "It was well worth the wait!" The showgoers enjoyed his genre-diverse setlist of songs from Prince & The Revolution's "Raspberry Beret," to dance numbers like "Before I Let Go" by Frankie Beverly & Maze. If date and schedule permit, Corey Clark may be returning May 25, 2024 and accompanied once again by the talented Bassist, BB along with one of Clark's mentors and friend, the multi-musically talented Professor Clayton, who played Keyboard.
