Recently, Western International Securities and its advisors have encountered a series of regulatory issues, including allegations of misconduct and failure to supervise, prompting concerns regarding the firm's compliance practices and the best interests of its clients. In June 2022, the Securities and Exchange Commission charged Western International Securities and five of its registered financial advisors (Case No. 2:22-cv-04119) with violations related to the sale of alternative investments such as GWG L Bonds. Most recently, Western International consented to a censure and agreed to pay over $870,000 in fines and restitution to customers, in connection with unsuitable recommendations to its customers to invest in non-traded REITs and ETFs.

According to securities fraud attorney Lawrence L. Klayman, Esq., "Western International Securities' recent FINRA disciplinary action alleges broker misconduct and failure to maintain a reasonably designed supervisory system to detect unsuitable trading in customer accounts. Similar misconduct described in the customer complaints and other disclosures brought against the Western International financial professionals listed above indicates a lack of supervision at the firm's Pasadena, CA branch."

Current and former customers of Western International Securities' Pasadena, CA branch, and/or any other branch who suffered investment losses are encouraged to contact attorney Lawrence L. Klayman, Esq. at (888) 997-9956 or by email at lawrence@klaymantoskes.com in furtherance of our investigation.
