

New Leaf Detox and Treatment Inc.: Local Detox in California Announces Increase in Admissions for Powerful New Opiates like Fentanyl

Laguna Niguel, California – New Leaf Detox and Treatment Inc., the leading rehab center and detox in California, has announced a significant increase in recent admissions of patients with addiction to powerful new opiates like Fentanyl.

Despite being FDA-approved medications, prescription drugs can be very dangerous if not used as directed by a patient's healthcare provider. Opioids communicate with the brain to promptly release large amounts of dopamine so that the user can begin feeling happy, comfortable, and at ease even though a large amount of pain is present. Due to this effect, New Leaf Detox and Treatment Inc. has seen a significant increase in admissions for patients who have become dependent on opiates, such as Fentanyl.

"It is easy not to realize the exact moment where the abused drug takes control and begins producing potentially life-threatening side-effects," said a spokesperson for New Leaf Detox and Treatment Inc. "Continuous recreational abuse of prescription painkillers can have various health care complications or psychological, mental illnesses along with the addictions to prescription medications."

As an answer to the surge in opiate admissions, New Leaf Detox and Treatment Inc. offer a range of high-quality rehab, detox, and drug addiction recovery programs that have been uniquely tailored to help patients attain long-lasting sobriety. These programs combine medication therapy with behavioral therapies, such as cognitive behavioral therapy, to give patients the opportunity to work with therapists to understand and identify the root causes of the abuse habits and how to keep them from coming back.

Additionally, the expert team at New Leaf Detox and Treatment Inc. empowers patients to apply the strategies and coping techniques developed at the California rehab center in the real world by encouraging family therapy options and group therapy work to establish a long-lasting and reliable support network to further help and guide patients when challenges are presented outside the facility.

"Aside from our diverse range of evidence-based drug and alcohol recovery programs and behavioral therapy options, our experience in the health care and substance abuse industry has shown that sober support networks are crucial for long-term sobriety, and with our drug rehab center offering its beautiful location in Orange County, our clients a considerable advantage in creating a healthy and robust foundation," continued the spokesperson for New Leaf Detox and Treatment Inc.

Accepting all PPO insurance, New Leaf Detox and Treatment Inc.'s specialist team is standing by to help and encourages prospective patients to call or fill out the contact form on its website to begin their journey to sobriety today.
