Executive Director of 365 Foundation, Natalie Venezia, promotes women's empowerment on Bucks County Beacon's The Signal

LANSDALE, PENNSYLVANIA, US, March 27, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Natalie Venezia, Executive Director of the 365 Foundation, recently appeared on Bucks County Beacon's podcast "The Signal" to discuss the organization's mission of promoting women's empowerment through art and community service.

"This is not just about creating change; it's about reshaping our entire society," said Venezia. "We believe that by leveraging the power of art and community service, we can create safe spaces for women to express themselves and advocate for equal rights."

During her interview with editor-in-chief Cyril Mychalejko on "The Signal" podcast, Venezia showcased the distinctiveness of some of the Foundation's initiatives. These include the In the Pink Podcast, a platform that amplifies women's voices; The Time is Now-Women's Summit, a gathering that sparks conversations on pressing issues; and the Women's Monthly Concert & Art Gallery Series, a space that celebrates women's creativity. These programs raise awareness about social justice and diversity and provide unique opportunities for women to connect and make a difference in their communities.

As a key figure in the feminist movement, Venezia is at the forefront of 365 Foundation's efforts to empower women and promote gender equality. Through strategic partnerships with local organizations and a steadfast commitment to advocating for women's rights, 365 Foundation is leaving a significant imprint on the Lansdale community, fostering a more inclusive and equitable society.
