"I chose City Wide because I felt aligned with the Vision, Mission, and Values. Not only was the process from our first call great, but the ongoing support from the Support Center has been superb. We also love the business model and ability to grow a great profitable business that will be interconnected with our community. The cherry on top was the idea of spreading the ripple. We love the concept and the fact that we have seen it play out over and over already in such a short span."

Prior to beginning their journey with City Wide, Lindsey spent 30 years in retail facility design, construction management, and maintenance services across restaurants, convenience stores, warehouses, and supermarket environments. This experience gives Lindsey in-depth knowledge of working with contractors and suppliers, as well as proven knowledge of the commercial maintenance industry.

City Wide puts business back into the community by partnering with independent and locally owned companies to provide services to our clients. Aligning with independent companies ensures clients have access to more specialized services while providing an opportunity for small businesses to develop alongside a company with a proven system and track record in the facility maintenance industry.
