Trustpoint.One and eDiscovery Today to work together to educate legal professionals on eDiscovery and other legal technology trends and best practices.

HOUSTON, TX, USA, March 27, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Trustpoint.One, a leading provider of managed review, eDiscovery, cybersecurity, and other legal and technology services, is pleased to announce an educational partnership with Doug Austin's eDiscovery Today blog. As the only daily blog covering electronic discovery, information governance, cybersecurity, data privacy, and artificial intelligence trends, best practices, and case law, eDiscovery Today is a trusted resource for legal professionals worldwide.

As we embark on this exciting partnership with eDiscovery Today, we are poised to deliver unparalleled educational content to legal professionals worldwide.”

Stefanie Cerio, VP of Marketing and Events of Trustpoint.One

The partnership enables Trustpoint.One and eDiscovery Today to work together to educate legal professionals on eDiscovery, cybersecurity, information governance and other legal technology trends and best practices.

“As we embark on this exciting partnership with eDiscovery Today, we are poised to deliver unparalleled educational content to legal professionals worldwide. By leveraging our collective expertise, we aim to illuminate the intersection of eDiscovery, cybersecurity, and legal technology, empowering professionals with the insights they need to navigate today's complex legal landscape.” said Stefanie Cerio, VP of Marketing and Events of Trustpoint.One.

“Trends and best practices in eDiscovery today impact trends and best practices in cybersecurity, data privacy, information governance, artificial intelligence and other legal technology disciplines and vice versa” said Doug Austin, Editor of eDiscovery Today. “As Trustpoint.One has a dedicated team of experts across all those disciplines, I’m excited to work with that team to educate legal professionals on trends and best practices across a variety of legal technology disciplines!”
