ALPHARETTA, GEORGIA, UNITED STATES, March 27, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Leading custom stone countertops business Granite & Marble Solutions has been featured on HGTV’s “Lil Jon Wants to Do What?”, showcasing the company’s expertise in custom quartzite countertops alongside Grammy-winning artist Lil Jon and designer Anitra Mecadon.

Granite & Marble Solutions, a leader in custom natural stone countertops, is thrilled to announce it has been featured in two episodes of the hit HGTV series “Lil Jon Wants to Do What?”. The company’s outstanding craftsmanship and innovative design approaches were showcased as it joined forces with Grammy-winning artists and renovation enthusiast Lil Jon, alongside designer Anitra Mecadon, to create stunning custom countertops for clients on the show.

Granite & Marble Solutions played a vital role in transforming homes with its quartzite countertops. The team’s journey from design to the final reveal was full of creativity, professionalism, and a shared passion for elevating a home’s interior.

Don Benton, Owner of Granite & Marble Solutions, said:

“Our team was so excited to work alongside Lil Jon and Anitra. Their energy and vision provided us with the perfect platform to highlight what we do best — beautiful, high-quality countertops designed to take a living space to the next level. Our feature on the show has not only displayed our commitment to excellence when it comes to creating custom stone countertops but has also allowed us to inspire viewers with unique designs they can recreate in their own homes. We’re immensely grateful for the chance to collaborate with such talented people and look forward to continuing to push the boundaries of innovation in home renovation.”

The episodes allowed Granite & Marble Solutions to demonstrate its team’s extensive expertise in selecting and installing high-quality quartzite countertops. The feature has also reaffirmed the business’s status as a leader in its industry and proved its ability to deliver top-level service and results.
