The growth in the welding consumables market is due to the growth of the construction industry. Asia-Pacific region is expected to hold the largest welding consumables market share. Major players in the welding consumables market include Lincoln Electric Holdings Inc., Illinois Tool Works Inc., Air Liquide S.A., Hyundai Welding Co Ltd., WB Alloy Welding Products Limited.

Welding Consumables Market Segments

- By Type: Stick Electrodes, Solid Wires, Flux Cored Wires, SAW Wires And Fluxes
- By Consumables: Stick Electrodes, Gases, Strip Cladding Electrodes, Submerged Arc wires and Fluxes, Wires, Other Consumables
- By Welding Type: Arc Welding, Energy Beam Welding, Plasma Arc Welding, Submerged Arc welding, Electro Slag Welding, Resistance Welding, Other Welding Types
- By Application: Heavy Engineering, Automotive and Transportation, Railways, Construction, Shipbuilding, Other Applications

- By Geography: The global welding consumables market is segmented into North America, South America, Asia-Pacific, Eastern Europe, Western Europe, Middle East and Africa.

Welding consumable refer to any material used for making or protecting a weld. The welding consumables are used to join the thermoplastics and metals utilizing coalescence. These are used in different applications to make them a final product in different industries. A welding consumable produces a fume composition that contains 14% chromium as Cr (III), and it is overalloyed with 2–4% Ni to encourage the formation of austenite in the weld metal and to maintain the phase balance.
