Renowned for dressing A-list celebrities and royalty, including Taylor Swift and Princess Diana, David Tupaz stands as a master of couture fashion, with his atelier in Las Vegas producing pieces that transcend mere clothing, embodying artistry and elegance. His designs are a testament to his unparalleled creativity and craftsmanship, earning him a coveted place among Hollywood's elite and beyond.

For Tiffany Chang, a Stanford student studying Engineering Management and Human-centered Design, the opportunity to walk the runway for David Tupaz was nothing short of a dream come true. "I never would have imagined myself as a runway model, let alone the show finale for David Tupaz," she reflects. "I credit Virgelia Productions for this incredible opportunity and connections, and for especially considering me as I've never professionally modeled before." Going through an intensive modeling and pageant training program with Virgelia Productions makes Tiffany prepared at any given moment to take center stage.

Beyond the runway, Tiffany has embraced the myriad opportunities that comes with her title as Miss Asia USA, from attending the Oscar Gala to mingling with celebrities and dignitaries and royalties. She has also had the privilege of hearing and engaging from inspirational figures like Candace Nelson, owner of Sprinkles, and Jaime Kern Lima, founder of IT Cosmetics, at the Women Shine Gala held by the Beverly Hills Chamber of Commerce at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel Beverly Hills.

I credit Virgelia Productions for this incredible opportunity and connections, and for especially considering me as I've never professionally modeled before.”

Tiffany Chang

Reflecting on her whirlwind experience, Tiffany shares, "One thing I've learned is to never be afraid to try. If you don't give it a shot, you'll never know what you're capable of." Her journey from newcomer to showstopper at LA Fashion Week serves as a testament to the power of courage and determination.

As the buzz surrounding Tiffany Chang continues to reverberate throughout the fashion industry, her story serves as an inspiring reminder that with passion and perseverance, anything is possible. In stepping onto the runway, she not only captivated audiences but also shattered stereotypes, redefining the boundaries of beauty and success in the fashion world. With Virgelia Productions guidance, support and connections, Tiffany is excited of what the future holds.

Tiffany is currently on her tour of Asia for special appearances and tv / radio interviews.

Virgelia Productions is set to produce an international fashion show in the fall. It will showcase 10 designers who will be invited to showcase their specialized crafts of the cultural and historical couture designs of each country. This will be one fantastic unique fashion show seeing the world on Virgelia Productions runway.
