

B'nai Torah Congregation Celebrates Sold Out 2024 Concert Series

Four Boca Raton Concerts Featured Performances by Acclaimed Artists

BOCA RATON, FL, UNITED STATES, April 2, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- B'nai Torah Congregation, the largest conservative synagogue in Southeast Florida, is celebrating the synagogue's hugely successful and inspiring 2024

Concert Series. The series, which included four live, in-person performances, featured singers, songwriters, orchestras, and Cantors from around the world. It was presented in loving memory of Eleanor and Paul Weiner (Z'L). Margie Browner Marks served as Chair.

This music transcends language, culture, and time, and touches the deepest parts of our hearts and souls.”

The four concerts, which kicked off in January and concluded in March, featured: Dudu Fisher, Soul to Soul, Cantor Magda Fishman and Friends Celebrate Broadway and Beyond, and Netanel Hershtik & Big Band Orchestra.

B'nai Torah Congregation's Cantor Magda Fishman, who served as leader of the Concert Series in collaboration with Maestro Tomer Adaddi, selected each of the performers and performed herself twice. Fishman, who has traveled extensively in Israel, the United States, Europe and Canada, to sing, performed in front of a sold crowd of 1,400 audience members.

“Year after year, we continue to provide a musical journey through a wide range of artistic expression – traditional, contemporary, liturgical, pop,” said Cantor Fishman. “This music transcends language, culture, and time, and touches the deepest parts of our hearts and souls. I am grateful that we truly share the power of music, culture and community with the world.”

“In my years at B'nai Torah, our community has never come together the way it has in recent months,” added Rabbi David Steinhardt. “We are so deeply tied to our people, our homeland, our culture and religious expression. This series gave us the opportunity to gather and listen to talented musical artists as we reflected on the past and look towards a brighter future.”

Benefactors of the 2024 Concert Series were Eleanor & Paul Weiner (Z'L), Barbara & Jeffrey Rosenberg and Carla & Bruce Weiner. For a full list of patrons and friends, please visit <https://www.btcboca.org/cs/>.
