With the industry standard for similar services averaging around $1,000, this planning session is a valuable offering for taxpayers struggling with complex IRS tax codes. The offer is only available to subscribers filing with FlyFin for the 2023 tax year.

The service includes:

Tailored strategies for every unique tax situation that help discover hidden 1099 deductions and maximize savings

Guidance on the business structure best suited for your line of work

With nearly 16 million self-employed individuals in the US, navigating a tax system with confusing jargon becomes a much bigger problem. For those freelancers who end up paying less than what they owe, their savings take a hit.

It can be frustrating if they overpay or find out about a tax write-off too late. This brings a lot of uncertainty around paying the right amount and wanting to take advantage of every tax-saving opportunity.

FlyFin users save 5x more than average self-employed taxpayers because of its "Man+Machine" approach, which uses A.I. and expert CPAs to help individuals pick the best filing status, differentiate between a 1099-MISC and 1099-NEC form, and manage local and state taxes.

FlyFin also offers a range of free services to taxpayers, including a 1099 tax calculator, a “TaxGPT” service that gives up-to-date tax advice, and a 1099 tax estimator that calculates estimated quarterly taxes.
