"We are honored to receive this recognition from the Atlanta Business Chronicle for our efforts to eradicate poverty locally, regionally and globally," Caring For Others CEO and Founder Eslene Richmond-Shockley said. "Since our founding 25 years ago we have grown exponentially and hope to continue at that pace serving others for the foreseeable future."

This recognition comes after a year of record-setting growth for Caring For Others, including the celebration of the organization's 25th anniversary. In 2023 alone, Caring For Others distributed over 4,200,000 pounds of food and assisted over 129,000 households.

Caring For Others is committed to giving those in need a chance to live with dignity by restoring hope and providing the tools and resources required to break the cycle of poverty and, ultimately, sustain an overall improved quality of life. The non-profit offers nine signature programs, ranging from sending a Convoy of Care to areas struck by disaster to creating International Microeconomic Centers.

On Thursday, April 25, the Atlanta Business Chronicle will host an awards ceremony to rank the nominated companies.
