widely recognized for his music and viral social media presence. He has been seen on Linda Ikeji blog and Official HipTV and continues to be a modern day ambassador for Africa and trending African music, fusion, beats, and culture.

ABOUT ONE IN A MILLION: One would think this would be a self-title this album, but instead, he names it "One in a million" after the first officially released single from the album. When asked why, his words were: "I have been through so much in life and in my music career. A lot of ups and downs that would have ended my life and career, but I made it out. Only a few people are lucky to have these experiences and still come out shining. I am one of the favored. I am one in a million."

He also said that even though this album has a jazzy and 'lover boy' tone, each of the tracks was made during different events of his life over the course of five years. He says, "Each track has its own story of a defining moment in life. They remind me of the scars, the feelings of pain, hope, disappointments, rejection, the growth, the joy, blessings, and the triumph of my journey so far.”

Today, Demola unveils and shares this sublime album with his fans, new listeners all over the world, and everyone who believes that they are one in a million.
