Within the first year of launching the company, one of BDR.ai's competitors was vocal when they said, "you're just a reseller" and although this person was fundamentally correct in their statement, the word BDR.ai might substitute is the word just for great - "you're a great reseller".

"Rather than raise capital and hire engineers, we chose to partner with cutting edge players in AI for Sales, leverage their technology, and then put together a sales tech stack that delivers a sustainable, and unfair, competitive advantage for our clients," said Chad Burmeister, Founder of BDR.ai, Inc.

As BDR.ai considers its potential acquirers, the most important outcome is that its technology, systems and processes continue to be used for good, and to help entrepreneurs penetrate their market with ease.
