Experience JOY: Celebrate Earth Day...

For the past two years Sagar has been working closely with physicians as well as the “plant power curious” offering guidance on how to elevate mood, reduce anxiety, and improve functional performance with the assistance of plant medicines.

His singular botanical dispensary is dedicated to connecting the public with the power of plants, offering a wide variety of events, workshops, classes, and other experiences to nourish the mind, body, and spirit.

Terri Gold is an intrepid world traveler and an award winning photographer known for her distinctive infrared imagery of people from some of the remotest corners of the globe. Her work focuses on humanities collective cross-cultural truths: family, community, ritual and the diversity in its expression. Exhibition continues through May 12th.

Aneta Zae’s hand crafted fine jewelry channels her intuitive process and is born of a commitment to nature’s preservation. Zae believes that everything is energy and her creations manifest nature’s healing capabilities, That ethos and the exclusive use of ethically sourced gemstones and recycled precious metals make her the perfect addition to our Earth Day trifecta. Trunk show runs Saturday, April 20th and Sunday, April 21st.

A portion of the proceeds from all sales during the artist’s opening reception will go to benefit <https://www.water.org>
