Rise in awareness regarding the health benefits of organic food products, easy availability of organic baby food across the popular sales channels, growing government initiatives, and increase in health consciousness among consumers drive the growth of the global organic baby food market. However, the high cost of organic food and beverage and certain government regulations for the approval of organic food and beverage limit market growth. Moreover, rise in investment of government and private investors in the organic baby food industry are expected to provide numerous growth opportunities in the coming years.

“

Organic baby food market in Asia-Pacific is expected to grow at the highest rate during the forecast period, owing to growth in urbanization, rise in birth rates, rise in women employment.”
