Dave and Debbie Callahan

of wines crafted by women from around the world in Shades of Vino's 2024 Spring collection. Featuring wines from Bulgaria, France, South Africa, Chile, and domestic regions like Central Coast California, Virginia, and Maryland, this collection offers a diverse range of flavors and aromas that reflect the unique qualities of the women winemakers behind each bottle.

The spring wine collection is our women's collection. Women produce all of the wines. The collection is called "Empowering Vines—Wines By Women For Everyone. "The title is a little misleading. It implies that these dynamic women were given the authority to excel. Rather, these producers kicked the door in and took power to create award-winning craft beverages,” said Leslie Frelow, The Wine Concierge Owner and Founder.

Inside this FREE and exclusive group of wine enthusiasts, Shades of Vino members embark on extraordinary experiences, form new bonds, and savor all the best life offers. Shades of Vino club members receive quarterly wine allocations that feature hand-crafted wines produced by women and minority winemakers, vintners, and owners from boutique vineyards. Members decide to receive 3, 6, or 12 bottles of wine each quarter.

Keeping seasonality in mind, we selected wines that easily transition from colder times to sun-filled days. Many have floral and rich notes, making them perfect for warmer weather and outdoor gatherings. Medium-body red wines like 2022 Narcisso Merlot and 2022 Old Westminster "Pepper" Red are approachable and ready to drink.

Rosé is a popular spring wine. The 2022 Lobo Rosé of Pinot Noir and the 2022 LoveLee Regal Rosé are refreshing and pair well with seasonal dishes like salads, seafood, and grilled vegetables.

We round out the collection and toast with NV Poggio Prosecco Brut DOC. Let's salute the Em -POWER-ed women wine producers.
