

Sport as a Driver of Social Transformation and Development: Maclovio Yañez Villagrán

MEXICO CITY, MEXICO CITY, MEXICO, April 12, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- In Boca del Río, a Mexican town of Veracruz the commitment to local sports development has taken on a new dimension thanks to the initiative of Racing F.C. Porto Palmeiras, led by its owner, businessman Maclovio Yañez Villagrán. This sports entity not only embodies a passion for physical activity but has also become a catalyst for change, both socially and economically, as revealed by the oil magnate and club president.

Racing F.C.'s comprehensive vision is evident in its recent intervention at the "El Morro" Sports Complex, where it has equipped local athletes, including medalists, with state-of-the-art training infrastructure. This space boasts cutting-edge technology and high-quality sports equipment, providing an ideal environment for perfecting javelin, discus, and shot-put skills.

Among the primary beneficiaries of this initiative are figures such as Eliezer Gabriel, Luis Gómeztagle, and Jocelyn Valdés, who have achieved recent triumphs, such as the silver medal at the 2023 Parapan American Games in Santiago, Chile. These achievements demonstrate the excellence of the region's athletes and the positive impact that these investments generate within the community.

It is essential to highlight Racing F.C.'s financial commitment, which has supported athletes with a substantial investment, providing next-generation javelins and discs valued at over 1 million pesos. This contribution underscores the club's solid commitment to sports development in Boca del Río, strengthening social ties and fostering community pride in the region.

In a context where crime and youth violence pose persistent challenges, sports emerge as a crucial ally in addressing these issues. "Sport is an effective way to steer young people away from adverse situations and provide them with opportunities for growth in a healthy and structured environment," comments Maclovio Yañez Villagrán.

Statistics support the efficacy of sports in addressing social problems. Sports promote values such as discipline, perseverance, and teamwork, which are essential for personal development and social inclusion. Accordingly, projects like Racing F.C. Porto Palmeiras exemplify how sports can force social and economic change.

"Today, collaboration between sports and civil organizations, such as Racing F.C., is essential in promoting civic values and disseminating the benefits of sports as a preventive measure against delinquent or violent behavior among young people,” emphasizes the Mexican entrepreneur.

Maclovio Yañez Villagrán, the director of Núcleo SEPEC, a prominent company in the Mexican oil and gas sector, recognizes the opportunity given to him to promote high-impact social platforms. He has undertaken various projects, including the intervention of the aforementioned Sports Complex.

Fausto González

Fausto González

email us here

---

This press release can be viewed online at: <https://www.einpresswire.com/article/703265107>

EIN Presswire's priority is source transparency. We do not allow opaque clients, and our editors try to be careful about weeding out false and misleading content. As a user, if you see something we have missed, please do bring it to our attention. Your help is welcome. EIN Presswire, Everyone's Internet News Presswire™, tries to define some of the boundaries that are reasonable in today's world. Please see our Editorial Guidelines for more information.

© 1995-2024 Newsmatics Inc. All Right Reserved.