"Only giving, and never receiving the love you deserve? 'Loan' is the heart-wrenching indie-rock song for you. A story about a girl who wants to get by, without people demanding her body, her attention, her love. In a life where growing up seems inevitable, we face new challenges at every new stage," said McGee

"Loan" was recorded at Red Caiman Studios in Pittsburgh, PA, and is soon to be featured on McGee's Sophomore EP 'What Was Will Be Again' (Summer 2024). Songs on the album will explore personal themes of memory, mental health, and human connection.

The recording project originated in a college park, after McGee and his bandmates won a contest hosted by a student record label. They were invited to record at Red Caiman Studios, considered to be Pittsburgh's premier recording facility.

McGee is already a seasoned live performer who has cultivated a strong audience from DIY basement venues to stages across New England. He has opened for notable acts such as Twiddle's Mihali and Florida-based Indie-Rockers Flipturn.

"Loan" features performances by Jacob Zang on Guitar, Alex Weibel on Bass, and Jake Stretch on Drums. The track was engineered and produced by Jesse Naus. Creative Direction by Archer.
