

Teach Haiti: Building Hope Among Chaos

Teach Haiti: Building Hope Among Chaos

VERMILION, OHIO, UNITED STATES, April 19, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- In 2014, Teach Haiti embarked on constructing a school in St. Michel de L'Attalaye to provide the highest standard of education to the local children and opened its doors in 2016. St. Michel is a village of roughly 95,000 people in the Artibonite department of Haiti. The village faces significant challenges in terms of education access and economic opportunities. Over half of St. Michel's children do not go to school, which puts the next rising generation of this community in jeopardy. However, Teach Haiti is changing the narrative of this beloved community.

With the completion of the new three-story building this month during a national crisis, the school is poised to accommodate nearly 275 students and extend its services to the 9th grade. Their ultimate goal is to begin construction in a few years to establish a school capable of serving students up to the 13th grade (senior year).

The Teach Haiti students in St. Michel thrive in their education. They receive a comprehensive curriculum taught by qualified teachers, from math to science to agriculture and art. The

“

"We are so grateful to see Teach Haiti building while so much is happening in the country. This building gives us hope that one day this country will be better." "

St. Michel Resident

students also enjoy a daily nutritious meal. Beyond its physical structure, the school symbolizes a beacon of hope for the community.

"We are so grateful to see Teach Haiti building while so much is happening in the country. This building gives us hope that one day this country will be better."

St. Michel Resident

Meanwhile, conditions persistently deteriorate in Port-au-

Prince, the capital city where Teach Haiti established its first school in 2010, which serves over 400 students. Residents remain confined to their homes, schools remain closed, and local businesses operate at reduced capacity and hours. Regardless of the current conditions, Teach Haiti remains committed to educating children in the capital with online learning.

Teach Haiti is dedicated to establishing a nurturing environment where children can aspire to ambitious dreams for a better future—dreams that have the potential to spark significant change within their community and the nation at large. Despite the challenges, the most profound lesson lies in achieving this goal among the chaos, serving as a powerful reminder that hope endures for all.

If you would like to learn more about Teach Haiti’s work or support its expansion to 13th grade in St. Michel, visit teachhaiti.org or contact:

Miquette McMahon
Email: info@teachhaiti.org
Phone: 330-715-8978

Visit Teach Haiti on social media:

Instagram
Facebook
LinkedIn
X

Miquette McMahon
Teach Haiti
+1 330-715-8978

email us here

Visit us on social media:
Facebook

The Rising Generation

This building symbolizes a beacon of Hope for the St. Michel Community.

Twitter
LinkedIn
Instagram
YouTube

---

This press release can be viewed online at: <https://www.einpresswire.com/article/704683553>

EIN Presswire's priority is source transparency. We do not allow opaque clients, and our editors try to be careful about weeding out false and misleading content. As a user, if you see something we have missed, please do bring it to our attention. Your help is welcome. EIN Presswire, Everyone's Internet News Presswire™, tries to define some of the boundaries that are reasonable in today's world. Please see our Editorial Guidelines for more information.

© 1995-2024 Newsmatics Inc. All Right Reserved.