DALLAS, TEXAS, UNITED STATES, April 23, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Dallas plastic surgeon and Meeting Chair, Dr. Rod J. Rohrich, hosts the 2024 Dallas Cosmetic Surgery and Medicine Meeting. This meeting, along with the Dallas Rhinoplasty Meeting which took place immediately afterwards, included panel discussions, video feeds with expert commentary, live demonstrations, and a unique cadaver dissection anatomy lab which provided participants direct hands-on experience as well as direct instruction and interaction with the global cosmetic surgery experts.

Dr. Rod J. Rohrich Lectures at Dallas Rhinoplasty and Cosmetic Meeting

The presentations at the Dallas Cosmetic Meeting are specifically designed to give the participant the latest in innovative techniques and emerging technologies. Lectures are presented by highly experienced surgeons and providers and cover the latest trends, industry updates, and offer expert guidance on advanced applications of cosmetic treatments with a special emphasis on evidence-based medicine. Both meetings are routinely attended by surgeons from around the world.

"Evidence-based plastic surgery has truly changed the way we practice our profession - a change that sets the stage for continual advances and improvements, with an awareness of our duty to assure patient safety and satisfaction," explains Dr. Rohrich. "The element for training and advancing all aspects of cosmetic surgery and medicine is to encourage continued patient safety and outcomes in all that we do and teach."
