In November 2023, Accenture acquired Innotec Security, a privately held company specializing in cybersecurity-as-a-service, cyber resilience, and cyber risk management, expanding its capabilities and footprint in Spain. Innotec Security was previously owned by parent company Entelgy Group. The acquisition of Innotec Security—which also has a presence in Barcelona, Seville, and the Basque Country—will add 500 cybersecurity professionals to Accenture Security's workforce of 20,000 professionals globally, making Accenture Security one of the top managed security services (MSS) players in Spain.

In August 2023, DXC Technology signed an IT Infrastructure Services Agreement with AT&T; under the agreement, DXC will manage AT&T's midrange IT infrastructure, which spans AT&T's enterprise compute, storage, backup, and recovery environments. DXC will also provide system, database, storage administration, hardware architecture, and maintenance across these environments.
