"Our initiatives supporting Off Balance Sheet Scope 2 and 3 emission reduction for the SEC's large issuers is gaining traction" said Tom Harblin Partner. "These large public companies are pushing emission compliant down to their supply chain who often don't have the capital budgets of the large public company issuers. Our program provides these emission reductions without Capital Expenditures put forth by the supply chain companies which pays back investors through the monetization of the carbon offsets created through the installation of these innovative products".
