Eargasm Goes on Tour

We live in a loud world, and harmful noises significantly threaten our hearing and mental health. Eargasm's mission is to provide world-class hearing protection that gives the freedom to be present and live every moment to its fullest while confidently knowing that hearing health is covered.

The Story of Eargasm

In 2015, while attending a live concert, Ryan Parry experienced an epiphany: conventional hearing protection was due for a transformation. Recognizing the limitations of traditional foam earplugs, Parry set out to introduce a new standard in auditory safety. Thus, Eargasm High Fidelity Earplugs were born, marking the inception of a revolutionary approach to safeguarding hearing.

"Our mission at Eargasm is to enhance the way people enjoy live experiences while prioritizing their long-term hearing health," says Parry. "Life is full of moments where you want to turn down the volume, not mute it entirely."

Eargasm High-fidelity Earplugs are not merely passive blockers of sound; they represent a paradigm shift in hearing protection. Engineered to filter the noise to a safer and clearer level, these earplugs cater to diverse environments, from concerts and band rehearsals to bustling restaurants and industrial settings where effective communication is crucial.

As the premier innovator for hearing protection, Eargasm is dedicated to continuous improvement in serving its customers and is unwavering in its pursuit of excellence in hearing safety.
