

Supporting The Growing IT Community: it.com Domains Now Available at Sav.com

Partnership enables the availability of .it.com domains on Sav.com, one of the largest and fastest-growing domain registrars globally.

LONDON, UK, April 24, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- A leading provider of IT-related domain names, - it.com Domains, - is excited to announce the availability of its domains on Sav.com, one of the largest and fastest-growing domain registrars globally. This partnership will serve the global IT community by providing accessible and meaningful domain names within the .it.com domain zone for startups and emerging companies who want their domain name to indicate their tech-savvy online presence.

With the scarcity of .com domains, the market has seen the rise of alternative TLDs . The popularity of IT-related domains is on the rise, with tech startups increasingly choosing new domain extensions to brand themselves and showcase their tech focus . The availability of .it.com domains on Sav.com will further enhance this trend, offering more options for IT businesses looking to establish a strong online presence. One of the great advantages is the availability of premium domains in the .it.com registry, such as for example community.it.com, tech.it.com, develop.it.com - and many more.

Sav.com, one of the world's top domain name registrars, has shown remarkable growth since its inception in 2019, quickly reaching 1 million domains under management (DUM) and then doubling to 2 million DUM within a year . Its strong performance in new registrations, ranking 4th in 2022 , highlights its appeal to businesses seeking domain names. Sav is known for its ease of use and user-friendly experience; registering an .it.com domain name at Sav.com is simple, straight from homepage to checkout in 3 clicks.

Tess Diaz, Director of Channel Development at it.com Domains, commented, "The partnership between it.com Domains and Sav.com Domain Registrar promises strong growth for both partners, based on our alignment: we both share laser-focused growth plans and tremendous combined experience understanding what types of domains best address today's market needs."

Sav Founder & CEO Anthos Chrysanthou noted, "At the core of our mission, we aim to empower creators with our groundbreaking AI tools. These tools are designed to encompass the entire creative journey, ranging from selecting the perfect domain name to crafting captivating websites and managing emails seamlessly. Stay tuned: offering .it.com domains is one of many exciting new developments for 2024.”

The team at it.com Domains will continue focusing on developing the partnership with Sav.com and other such highly respected registrar channels, expanding the availability of its domains for the IT community globally.
