/EINPresswire.com/ -- FlyFin, the world's #1 AI and CPA tax preparation and filing service, launched a new campaign to educate freelancers and self-employed individuals about potential IRS penalties. By consulting with FlyFin's CPA tax experts, taxpayers can learn about compliance options and will be able to more successfully navigate complex, often confusing tax issues, such as:

- Penalty abatement, though the IRS doesn't explicitly advertise penalty exemptions
- How "reasonable cause" may apply for missing a tax filing deadline

"From the beginning, our mission at FlyFin has been to make tax filing fast, stress-free, and simple for freelancers," said Jaideep Singh, co-founder and CEO of FlyFin. "This includes providing guidance and help so taxpayers can make the best tax decisions possible and save more money."
