

CHTA Opens Applications for the Young Leaders Forum: Shaping Tomorrow's Hospitality Innovators

FORT LAUDERDALE, FLORIDA, UNITED STATES, April 26, 2024

/EINPresswire.com/ -- The Caribbean Hotel and Tourism Association (CHTA) is now accepting applications for the next session of its transformative Young Leaders Forum (YLF). The program, developed by former CHTA President and Barbados hotelier Affonso-Dass, focuses on developing the next generation of the Caribbean hospitality industry and empowering the region's emerging leaders.

The CHTA invites supervisors and professionals aged 25 to 40 looking to enhance their leadership skills under the guidance of industry experts and who have a passion for tourism and hospitality to apply for the Young Leaders class of 2024-2026. To be eligible, candidates must be employed by a CHTA member organization and obtain approval from their workplace to participate in the two-year program. Applications can be submitted on the CHTA website until April 29, 2024.

Under the guidance of Paul Collymore, Chair of the People Development Initiative and President of the Saint Lucia Hospitality and Tourism Association, along with the support of CHTA President-Elect Sanovnik Destang of St. Lucia, who also chairs CHTA's Technology Task Force, the YLF has been instrumental in shaping the professional growth of its participants. Notable past guest speakers, including Jamaica's hoteliers Adam Stewart and Josef Forstmayr, as well as Tourism Corporation Bonaire CEO Miles Mercera, have offered invaluable insights and inspiration.

The YLF adopts a comprehensive approach to professional development, providing mentorship, training, exchange programs, and networking opportunities. It fosters a continued spirit of ambassadorship to CHTA and the wider Caribbean hospitality industry, instilling pride and dedication among participants.

Mikael Doumeng, Digital Marketing Manager of Bolongo Bay Beach Resort in the U.S. Virgin Islands, expressed gratitude for the program, stating, "Through my Young Leaders Forum Mentorship, I've transformed challenges into opportunities, enhancing my professional development and elevating guest experiences at the hotel at the same time. My mentor's encouragement and expertise have not only helped motivate my journey but also deepened my understanding of the industry."

The forum has also served as a crucial platform for networking, enabling participants to establish meaningful connections within the industry. Several YLF graduates have taken on active roles on CHTA committees, demonstrating their commitment to advancing the association's goals.

Yatsuri Marshall, recently promoted to General Manager of Bay Gardens Marina Haven, highlighted the program's role in her development, noting, "The CHTA Young Leaders Forum was a pivotal step in my professional development, offering a unique blend of networking, learning, and industry insight. Engaging with peers and leaders, I gained and contributed valuable perspectives, which sharpened my skills and helped shape my career trajectory. This forum is an essential catalyst for growth and impact in our industry."

CHTA congratulates the recent graduates of the program for their remarkable commitment and dedication:
