Peter Diamond: The CFO who can transform time into business success

Known online and personally as Mr. Livin' The Dream™, Peter Diamond has crafted a channel that stands as a beacon for those aspiring to master the concept of BANKABILITY®, TAX, Real Estate, and Structure. Each video is packed with actionable advice drawn from Peter's extensive career as a CFO and tax expert, where he has consistently demonstrated his ability to enhance asset value and expand financial opportunities for his clients mainly with self-compounding cash flowing assets like residential real estate.

At the core of Peter's educational outreach is The Diamond Wealth Real Estate System, an innovative approach to real estate investment that Peter himself developed. Out of necessity, Peter Diamond AKA Mr. Livin' The Dream created the best way to enter the real estate game "The Diamond Wealth Real Estate System". What initially started as a hedge to his tax, accounting, CFO and consulting firm is such a successful business that it is outperforming his firm. Peter is a product of the traditional educational and work system where going to school and getting a job was the norm and what was perceived as the 'dream'. However, after years of sleeping on the floor, Peter got tired of constantly trading his valuable time or access in order to make money. Peter knew that investing time, energy and efforts behind self-compounding cash flowing assets like residential real estate is the way to true time and financial freedom and a way to break free from the

"Time waits for no one, and it's essential we use it wisely, enjoying life while also preparing for our descendants' prosperity and financial security," Peter explains.
