Unlike other calendar services, we do not require any personal information, which eliminates the security risks associated with account-based platforms.”

Scott Cate

to announce the launch of its innovative online service, designed to transform how fans interact with their favorite sports teams across major leagues, including NBA, NHL, NFL, and MLB. In a pioneering move, TeamCalendar provides a seamless and secure platform for sports enthusiasts to combine and track multiple team schedules in one personal calendar without the need for an account or any personal sign-up.

TeamCalendar is the first and only service that allows users to select teams from different leagues and merge their game schedules into a single, easy-to-manage calendar. This unique feature supports the schedules of teams such as the Phoenix Suns (NBA) and the Arizona Diamondbacks (MLB), enabling fans to follow one, two, or many of their favorite sports seamlessly.

Quick, Secure, and Personalized Sports Planning

With TeamCalendar, creating a personalized sports calendar is effortless and fast, taking less than 30 seconds to select teams and add their schedules to Google, Outlook, or Apple calendars with just a single click. This process is designed to work flawlessly across both desktop browsers and mobile devices, ensuring fans can keep up with their games anytime, anywhere.

"TeamCalendar is committed to enhancing the fan experience while respecting user privacy and security," said Scott Cate, founder of TeamCalendar. "Unlike other calendar services, we do not require any personal information, which eliminates the security risks associated with account-based platforms."

Engage More with Your Favorite Teams

TeamCalendar believes that having a team's schedule integrated into personal calendars increases fans' likelihood to watch games, attend in person, and engage in social media interactions. To enrich this interaction, TeamCalendar's appointments include detailed game information, such as broadcast information (how to watch the game), start times, venue addresses with driving directions, and details about that match umpires and referees. Post-game, the TeamCalendar updates to reflect outcomes and scores, enhancing the user's engagement with the sport.

No Account Needed

The no-account feature of TeamCalendar sets it apart from competitors, offering users a hassle-free way to manage their sports schedules without the security risks associated with granting third-party apps extensive permissions to access personal data.

Fans are encouraged to visit TeamCalendar.com today to experience how easy it is to stay connected with their favorite sports teams. With TeamCalendar, missing another game is a thing of the past.

About TeamCalendar

TeamCalendar is the premier provider of integrated sports scheduling services, dedicated to offering fans a secure, simple, and enhanced way to follow their favorite teams across multiple sports leagues without the need for account creation or personal data collection.
