The U.S.–Ukraine Freedom Summit aims to serve as a beacon of innovation and cooperation. Over three action-packed days, the summit will facilitate a series of high-level discussions and forums focusing on the latest advancements in battlefield technologies, strategic defense, and the comprehensive care of veterans.

Detailed Program Highlights:

- Global Security and Defense Forum: A platform for international experts to exchange cutting-edge strategies and technologies that shape the future of global defense.
- U.S. Ukraine Veterans Forum: Dedicated sessions to discuss policy reforms, healthcare improvements, and rehabilitation programs tailored to enhance the quality of life for veterans.
- Charity Golf Tournament at Borderlands: An event blending camaraderie and competition, aiming to raise funds for Ukrainian war veterans, emphasizing rehabilitation and recovery.

Samuel Cook, the American entrepreneur who founded the Borderlands Foundation expressed his vision for the summit: "This summit represents a pivotal moment in U.S.-Ukraine relations, presenting a unique opportunity to foster our mutual interests in security enhancements and humanitarian initiatives."

General David H. Petraeus, former CIA Director, and esteemed military leader, serving as the Guest of Honor, encapsulated the summit's essence, stating, "This convergence of leaders in a time of need underscores our collective strength. It is through our united efforts that we can surmount formidable challenges and achieve the extraordinary."

Dmytro Terpylo, Director of the Borderlands Foundation, further elaborated on the significance of the summit: "The U.S.-Ukraine Freedom Summit transcends the traditional boundaries of a conference; it is a catalyst for enduring international collaboration, fostering peace, and enhancing security on a global scale."
