North America is expected to hold the largest market share in the global market during the forecast period owing to the rising adoption of self-regulated advanced technologies such as AI and machine learning. Moreover, the United States government is providing funding and conducting programs to encourage private companies to deploy automated solutions for the smooth flow of their workflow.

Asia Pacific is anticipated to be the fastest-growing region over 2023-2030. This is primarily due to the rising adoption of these solutions across the automotive manufacturing industry. Furthermore, rising Industry 4.0 evolution with increasing investment in industrial plants is anticipated to aid the market growth. China, India, and Japan are expected to have the maximum share in the coming years. The increasing digital transformation across industries in India is driving RPA software solutions demand.
