

Army Public Affairs Contract Awarded to Blueprint Creative Group

Blueprint Creative Group has been awarded a contract showcasing its continued ability to support government agencies in achieving their communication objective.

MIAMI, FL, UNITED STATES, April 30, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Blueprint Creative Group, a strategic marketing communications agency, has been awarded a contract to provide Public Affairs Office support to the U.S. Army Medical Research and Development Command (USAMRDC). As an SBA certified 8(a) and woman-owned small business, this contract not only highlights Blueprint's capacity and expertise in providing enterprise-wide communications support but also solidifies its position as a trusted federal government contractor. The five-year, $4.5 million contract will help bolster USAMRDC's mission and objectives and increase visibility for military medicine.

USAMRDC is the Army's medical materiel developer, with a critical mission to provide solutions to the health and readiness challenges faced by U.S. armed forces. Headquartered at Fort Detrick, MD with subordinate commands throughout the world, USAMRDC plays a vital role in advancing military medicine through groundbreaking research, development, and acquisition of medical capabilities. The command's work spans a wide range of medical research, including infectious diseases, combat casualty care, regenerative medicine, and more.

Effective communication is essential for sharing the command's achievements, innovations, and initiatives with stakeholders, including Congress, military leadership, and the public. Under the contract, Blueprint Creative Group will provide a comprehensive suite of communication services tailored to meet USAMRDC's unique needs. This includes crafting compelling speeches for command leadership, leading communications initiatives, designing engaging graphics and materials, and organizing special visits and presentations by command leadership, stakeholders, and congressional members. By leveraging its experience and creativity, Blueprint will help USAMRDC effectively communicate its mission-critical work to diverse audiences.

"We are honored to have been entrusted to support the Public Affairs Office at USAMRDC and how the agency reinforces the health and readiness of the U.S. Army," shares Fabiola Fleuranvil, CEO of Blueprint Creative Group. "We look forward to working closely with the Public Affairs Office to support the advancement of the agency's mission."
